The most serious question which has occurred to my mind with reference to the rights and duties of the United States with reference to Colombia is presented by the last clause of the article of a treaty of 1846 above quoted, to the effect that "The United States also guarantee in the same manner the right of sovereignty and property which New Granada has and possesses over said territory." Some writers have attempted to construe this clause in such a manner that the United States would be compelled to protect New Granada from Colombia in its sovereignty over the territory in question against its own people. That is certainly not the view of this article taken by New Granada when the treaty was entered into, for if that be the correct interpretation the United States would have been authorized to intervene in the internal affairs of New Granada at any time. The interpretation which I give here is therefore more reasonable. This clause is that it shall be against foreign interference and that that Government is unwilling to guarantee to New Granada the right of sovereignty over the threatened territory any

ENTERPRISE PAYS

ASIS WELL DEMONSTRATED BY JOS. F. BRENNAN
Tin Roofing, Guttering and Spouting; Slatting and Tile Roofing, Iron Cornice, Metal Ceilings and Sheet Iron Work.
The handsome new front now being placed in the building owned by J. F. Brennan on South Sandy street shows what enterprise and determination, coupled with good work, will do. Mr. Brennan is always essentially up with the times and always does nothing but the best work. In tin roofing, guttering and spouting he has no superiors, while in all kinds of sheet metal work, galvanized cornices, metal ceilings, sky lights and similar lines he has few competitors and no equals. A number of business houses in this city have been especially beautified and adorned by the ceilings he has placed in them, while the cornices are handsome and far superior to anything erected in the city before. There is no use in sending away from home for sky lights, for he makes them of any style and size. In drafting and designing plans and outlines for sheet metal work, Mr. Brennan is superior and is a constant student of that work. He has a competent force of skilled workmen and can handle large contracts expeditiously and his work gives very general satisfaction. His place of business is now being greatly improved by a handsome front, which will soon be completed, and when done will add greatly to its appearance. Mr. Brennan is essentially a progressive man and if there is anything good in his line he has it, and all patronizing him may be certain of the best work and material; and he always stands ready to make good any promise, no matter what it may be.
FAMILY PARTY.
Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Strang, of Whitehall, there was quite a family gathering. Among those present were Capt. and Mrs. John E. Wright, Mrs. Strang's parents, of this city; Mr. Strang's mother from Murrayville; Harry Strang, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. T. Masters, Jesse Henry and wife, Mrs. Maud F. Rimbey, Henry Bell, wife and daughter, of Manchester, and Bert Henry, of East St. Louis. A superb dinner was one of the features of the day, which was wholly enjoyable to all.
H. J. HAMLIN HERE.
Attorney General H. J. Hamlin, of Springfield, one of the Republican gubernatorial candidates, who is canvassing the state for the Republican nomination, spent a few hours in Jacksonville Saturday evening at the Pacific hotel. He was on his way from Virginia, Cass county, which he visited during the day. He was accompanied by his secretary, Felix Streychmaus and both gentlemen took the 8:56 Wabash train for Springfield. During the week Mr. Hamlin has visited Douglas and Moultrie counties.
PARTY IN THE COUNTRY.
A number of young gentlemen entertained their young lady friends at an oyster supper given Friday evening at the home of Elmer Ranson, west of the city. The young gentlemen proved themselves royal hosts and insisted upon preparing and serving the delicious supper, which was greatly enjoyed by the entire company. The occasion was a most delightful one in every particular and the hosts have gained an enviable reputation as entertainers. James A. Groves, of this city, was among the young men who assisted in entertaining.

AN EDITOR'S RECOMMENDATION.
Mr. H. J. Keeler, publisher of the Press, Maiden-Rock, Wis., writes: "Allow me to say that I have recently used a bottle of Hart's Honey and Horsehold and found it a valuable remedy for a cold or cough. I have personally recommended it in several cases and hear a good word from all. When our readers need a reliable medicine for Colds, Coughs, Croup and Whooping Cough there is no other so satisfactory as Hart's Honey and Horsehold. I have known it cure many of my friends' children."—J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store.
READ THIS.
Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 24, 1897. Twelve years ago I have suffered from diabetes, and have spent hundreds of dollars with various doctors, with but little benefit. I was recommended to try a bottle of Texas Wonder, and after taking one bottle I was cured. I have since used it and will cheerfully testify to the fact that it is the most powerful medicine I have ever used. It is a true medicine for Diabetes, Coughs, Croup and Whooping Cough, and all other ailments. I have persuaded many of my friends to try it, and they have all been cured. I am now well and happy. J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store.

DISLOCATED HER SHOULDER.
Mrs. Johanna Soderholm, of Ferguson Falls, Minn., fell and dislocated her shoulder. She had a surgeon get it back in place as soon as possible; but it was quite sore and pained her very much. Her son mentioned that he had seen Chamberlain's Pain Balm advertised for sprains and soreness, and she asked him to buy her a bottle of it, which he did. It quickly relieved her and enabled her to sleep which she had not done for several days. The son was so much pleased with the relief it gave his mother that he has since recommended it to many others. For sale by all druggists.

Quite a fall of snow was enjoyed Friday evening, but it was so dry and light that the wind sent it about as if it were feathers. Sleighing on the paved streets was fairly good, but in the country there were so many bare spots cleared off by the wind that it was indeed "hard sledding."

Mrs. George W. Fox and her daughter, Mrs. A. S. Loving and two children, have returned to this city from Kirksville, Mo. It will be pleasant to many to know that Mr. Loving will probably locate in this city for the practice of his profession about the first of February. Both he and his excellent wife will be cordially welcomed here by a host of friends.

Masters Harold and Horace, twin sons of J. C. Swain, of Sinclair, recently took in what was probably their first money. Though but 6 years old, their parents wisely gave them something to interest them and teach them to work and save, and the result was the sale of two hogs weighing 210 pounds each. The well known and popular stock man, James Mahon, was the purchaser and paid the boys $2.10 per hundred weight for the animals, and the little fellows were proud enough.

By an announcement in another column it will be seen that Mr. Herman, the enterprising milliner, has leased the room now occupied by the Rap Fruit company on the south corner of East State street and the square, and will have it fitted up in a first class manner for a second store. Mr. Herman's large trade has long demanded larger quarters and as he has been unable to get them under one roof, he has decided to take a second building and the success which has attended him where he is will doubtless be his in the new location. His rare ability and the invaluable services of his accomplished wife make a combination difficult to estimate.

EDMUND VANCE COOKE, PRESENTING "A HANDFUL OF FOLKS," CHRISTIAN CHURCH, TUESDAY, 5th, 8 P. M. ADMISSION 35 CENTS.

F. M. Hart has purchased Frank Hunter's farm of eighty acres, a mile and a half southwest of Sinclair. It adjoins the house in which Mr. Hunter lives and which is on his father's premises. The land sold has nothing but fences on it, but is good soil and brought $100 an acre, showing that Morgan county dirt is pretty good property. Mr. Hunter said to a Journal reporter that he didn't mean to leave the county soon, if at all. He will probably work his father's farm, or a part of it, and that will give him enough to do and most certainly his numerous friends hope he will not leave the neighborhood, where he and his good wife are so popular.

QUICK WORK.

Saturday evening a broken wheel on a freight train derailed some cars at the C. & A. stock yards, and when the St. Louis local passenger train came along with a good list of passengers it would have to stop at the Michigan avenue crossing. Word was soon conveyed to O. L. Hill, the efficient agent in this city, and within half an hour he was on the scene ahead of the train and with a force of hacks sufficient to convey all the passengers not only to the city but to their homes, for which they were duly grateful. The gentleman braved the cold, standing about until all were safely on their way, and then rode to the city on top of one of the hacks, arriving in a rather chilled condition, but with the pleasant consciousness of having bravely performed a difficult task in a satisfactory manner and forcibly adding to the enviable reputation of "The Only Way."

FIRE VICTIMS.

Several Persons Killed in the Chicago Disaster Well Known Here.

Miss Mabel Ritchie received word Saturday of the death of Mrs. Nellie Padgett Police, who was one of the Iroquois theatre victims. As yet her remains have not been identified, but it is known that she perished in that disaster. She is known to many in this city, as she was a resident here about three years ago, and while here resided at the home of Walter Grant, a cousin, who was in the employ at that time of the jewelry firm of Russell & Lyon. C. L. DeFew also received a letter telling of Mrs. Police's death.

Among the victims of the disaster at the Iroquois theatre in Chicago was Mrs. Luella Aldrich, of that city. Mrs. Aldrich was formerly Miss Luella McDonald, of Virginia. She graduated from the Woman's college in this city with the class of 1879, of which Mrs. S. D. Osborne, Mrs. Edward Kimman and others of this city were members. Her daughter is supposed to have perished with her. The sad death will be learned with deep regret by the friends of Mrs. Aldrich here. Her husband is John A. Aldrich, a former resident of Cass county.

J. Herman, of this city, has received word of the death of two persons, well known to him, in the recent holocaust in Chicago. When he and his wife were in Chicago last year they desired to secure the services of a first class trimmer, and were recommended to employ a young lady named Miss May Dickut. They sought her and found her not only an accomplished trimmer, but also a perfect lady, well educated and refined, and they had no trouble in making a bargain with her, but to their disappointment she was taken sick and was unable to fill her engagement here. While they were in the city they also met a Mrs. Susie Lefmann, a milliner of LaPorte, Ind., a lady who was about engaging the services of Miss Carrie Dutkemeyer as trimmer, and wanted to know something of her. As the latter had learned her trade with Mr. and Mrs. Herman, they were able to give an account of her, and did so with great pleasure, saying much in her favor, and at the same time forming a pleasant acquaintance with Mrs. Lefmann. Later Miss Dickut either entered the employ of Mrs. Lefmann, or visited her, and the two with another friend went to Chicago and while there attended the fatal matinee in the Iroquois theatre and all three were killed. Mr. and Mrs. Herman were much grieved by the sad intelligence.

TWENTY-SECOND ANNUAL MUSLIN SALE

THIS SALE IS FOR CASH

52,784 YARDS MUSLINS AND SHEETINGS

This Great Annual Muslin Sale Begins

Monday Morning, January 4th, 1904

The world's consumption of cotton was one million more bales than was raised last year. From the government reports we find that the shortage this year is 750,000 bales. No wonder that cotton fabrics are advancing, and that at a rapid rate. Almost every day we are advised of an advance in the price of muslin and sheetings. In the past five years the South has received eight hundred million dollars more for its cotton crop than it received in the preceding five years. This certainly means prosperity for the cotton growing states.

CANNON AS SPEAKER.

He Spoke for the Dignity of the House Against the Senate.

Not since Thomas B. Reed's first appearance as speaker has the house of representatives had in that office a man of such vigorous individuality as Mr. Joseph G. Cannon, says the New York Post's special Washington correspondent. His personality is so distinctly his own, except so far as it belongs to an earlier western type now little seen in Washington, that it has been widely pictured in current publications and apparently affords material for constant comment. Other speakers of the house have regularly used somewhat stilted phrases in their requests for order, such as "Cease conversation" and "Retire to the cloak-room," when they have really meant in the vernacular "Keep quiet." Mr. Cannon is restoring the idiom as fast as possible. When he gets awakened in making a ruling to the house, he drops the gavel from his left hand, reverting to an upraised forefinger with which to lay down the law, after a manner long familiar to the house. Every time he drops the gavel the house applauds, for its members know that he is about to say something too vigorous for the conventional weapon of his office.

When some Chicago callers were recently trying to get him to speak at a dinner in the near future, he answered that he could not speak. They replied that it took Mr. Hinds, the clerk at the speaker's table, and several other coaches busy to keep him from making a speech half of the time in the house. There was a modicum of truth in this report.

RAT CHASING A NEW SPORT

Surpasses Fox Hunting in Popularity in a Pennsylvania Village.

Rat chasing is the new sport to which men, young and old, living near Berwyn, Adams county, Pa., have recently become devoted, says a Gettysburg dispatch. As a rural sport the innovation is fast outdistancing fox hunting in the village.

Interest in this game was aroused several weeks ago when a Berwyn resident liberated six rats from a trap, and the dogs of the village engaged in a rat killing contest. Rules regulating the sport were then drafted, and now it has become a regular Saturday afternoon pastime, and wagers are made on the result.

During the week traps are set in rat infested buildings, and when the time arrives for the weekly roundup as many as fifty rats are usually in captivity. The owners of dogs then assemble at the clubhouse. Each dog is held by its owner or trainer. One rat is then liberated from a trap, gets a start of several yards, and at a signal the dogs are released and the chase is on. The owner of the dog catching the most rats receives a cash prize, which is collected from the owners of the dogs. There is also lively betting on the side.

JOKE ON A COUNTESS.

Ranch "Boss" Confused Lady Countess McKenzie With a Mare.

Confusion in interpreting a telegram led to a ludicrous mistake in connection with the visit of Countess Constance McKenzie of Scotland to Alice and Corpus Christi for her wild hog hunt, says a Houston (Tex.) dispatch.

A telegram came announcing the arrival of Lady Constance McKenzie. It was addressed to the Santa Gertrude ranch, and the "boss," who is not up on the titles of nobility, concluded that Lady Constance was a fine blooded mare that R. J. Kelberg was sending to the ranch. He telephoned to J. B. Ragland, the livery stable man at Alice.

Ragland prepared a special stall at the stable and notified S. P. Anderson, agent for the San Antonio and Aransas Pass railway. It was only by accident that Ragland discovered his arriving at the depot that Lady Constance was a woman.

New Use For Telephones.

To apply for a position when you are out of work by telephone is one of the latest manifestations of the universal convenience of long distance talking, says the Boston Transcript. No need now to advise the impecunious young man to borrow $25—of somebody else—for a new suit, hat and gloves in order that he may give out the impression of not being poor. The man at the phone will listen only to the quality of his utterance and will not be affected by the color of the tie the youth has on. The net saving therefore of getting a job over the wire, supposing that the young man has to call up fifty different business men, is $20, a tidy little sum toward staying off the assignment of wages man. Great is modern economy!

London's "How Old Is Ann?" London has a variation of "How old is Ann?" This "How old were Bob and Richard?" And the problem is thus metrically set out, says the New York American:

Said Bob to Richard: "If ever I come to the age you are now, brother mine, Our ages united, will amount to a sum Of years making ninety and nine."

Said Richard: "That's certain, and it'll be fair For us to look forward so far Then shall be double the age that you are."

Which I wish the age that you are."

Good People Like Good Things

That's why so many people who know a good thing when they see it are buying "Ideal" coal.

"Ideal." That name is not a fancy of our imagination. We gave it to the coal we sell because it expresses compactly, truthfully, graphically and completely just what our coal is—"ideal" coal.

It's "Ideal" because it's coal all through—has no foreign matter mixed with it—is clean, free burning, easily lighted, economical in use.

People of discrimination use it and recommend it.

Order a ton and see how quickly we will deliver it.

We sell for cash at 13 cents per bushel, or $3.25 per ton.

THE BEST SERVICE

Patrons of the Dalrymple Carriage Line are Always Well Cared For.

Since Charles Dalrymple started his carriage line a few years ago his business has grown steadily. At the first he had one ordinary street carriage, but now he rents a large barn of his own on East Court street, where he has three fine, rubber tired carriages and a baggage wagon ready for the service of the public. The reason for this success lies particularly in the fact that Mr. Dalrymple not only has the best and most comfortable carriages in the city, but is besides absolutely reliable. If a call is left with him for any certain train, the patron may feel absolutely sure that he will be called for in ample time. Mr. Dalrymple also furnishes carriages for weddings, funerals and like occasions, and his reputation is that of giving entire satisfaction. Mr. Dalrymple has not only established a high class carriage and baggage line, but his enterprise has had its effect on others and as a result the public has a larger number of good vehicles at command for service. The proprietors of the Dalrymple line and all of his employees are courteous and obliging and anyone who once becomes a patron is sure to file a second call. A few months ago Mr. Dalrymple sustained a heavy loss in the Kennedy-Erison fire, but he was not discouraged and pluckily hastened to make good the loss and add still better things to his equipment.

The regular annual meeting of the shareholders of the Ayers National Bank, Jacksonville, Illinois, for the election of directors, will be held at the banking house on Jan. 12, 1904, between the hours of 10 and 4 of said day.

NEW ART TEACHER

Miss Louise Ripley will Take Charge of this Department in Illinois College

Miss Laura E. Ripley will arrive in Jacksonville to day from Brooklyn to take charge of the department of art in Illinois college. Miss Ripley was a student in Rockford college from 1895-6, in Chicago Art Institute 1896-8, and in Pratt Institute, Brooklyn 1901-3. During the greater part of the stay at Brooklyn Institute she was a pupil of Mr. Arthur W. Dow, so well known for his advanced work in the department of art. From 1898-1901 Miss Ripley was superintendent of drawing in the public schools at Rushville, Ind., and during her stay in Brooklyn was instructor in New York vacation schools. The rooms of the department will be at Academy hall off Church street and the following is a brief outline of the work which will be carried on under the direction of Miss Ripley.

Both class and individual instruction will be given. The course of study will include: 1. Instruction in academic art; 2. composition and design; 3. applied arts; 4. color and design as applied to home art; 5. children's course in drawing and designing; 6. basketry and weaving.

1—Academic art, (a) drawing and sketching in charcoal, pencil and pen and in form casts, still life and the model; (b) painting in oil and water color from nature forms and still life.

2—Composition and design and 3, applied art. These courses are correlated and can be given either separately or together. A certain knowledge of at least the fundamental principles of art has become almost a necessity to all well educated persons.

4—Color and design as applied to home art. As indicated, this work will bear directly upon art in the home. We as a nation have not an art appreciation. It lies with our mothers and our young people of to day to foster this love and appreciation for all that is fine in art.

5—Children's course in drawing and design. A Saturday morning course in elementary drawing and color work will be given. The instruction will be divided that the pupil may advance as rapidly as his progress will allow.

6—Basketry and weaving. A course in reed and raffia basketry will be presented. Individual instruction is a feature of this course. Several interesting problems in weaving will be presented as a sequel to the basketry course.

NEW MILLINERY STORE

J. Herman Will Shortly Open a Second Establishment.

The property on the south corner of East State street and the square has been leased for a long term of years to Mr. J. Herman, the popular milliner, and will be fully prepared for his business. Mr. Herman's present quarters being so inadequate to accommodate his large and increasing business, more room under the same roof, or an additional store became a necessity, and the latter has been provided. This new store will be known as the Illinois Millinery House, so as to distinguish each place from the other. The salesroom will be in charge of Miss Alma Pierson, who is well known, popular and thoroughly experienced in the business, and will be assisted by experienced salesladies, and the trimming room will be in charge of competent milliners. The building will be thoroughly remodeled, a new front put in and when completed will be strictly up-to-date with a stock of millinery which will attract much more than ordinary attention. This new store will be open about March first and in the meantime Mr. and Mrs. Herman will go to New York and purchase the stock for both stores, and promise unusual displays of beautiful goods. In handling such large quantities of material Mr. Herman will be in a position to offer millinery for less than it can be purchased elsewhere. The reputation for first class work, fine taste and latest styles will be strictly maintained in the new house, as well as in the old.
